ASSETS, $42,000,000 00, CASH.

THE CASH INCOME for the year ending Jan'y 1 1866, was OVER SIX MILLION DOLLARS ($6,317,035 88.)

CASH DIVIDEND Feb'y 1 1867 for ONE YEAR was OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,134 000 75)

Or in EQUIVALENT ADDITIONS TO POLICIES more than FOUR MILLION DOLLARS ($4,840,064 04.)

This Company has paid to its Policy holders in 23 years $10,176,388 00, CASH

Or Equivalent Additions to their Policies of about TWENTY-TWO MILLIONS.

MANY COMPANIES PAY THEIR STOCK HOLDERS from 12½ to 20 per cent of the net profits besides interest on Capital Stock —some paid to STOCK HOLDERS last year more than they did to POLICY HOLDERS.

This Company is purely Mutual on the Cash plan. Every cent of its profits belongs to the policy holders.

DIVIDENDS ARE ANNUAL from date of Insurance and may be used as CASH in payment of Premiums or as an INCOME where there is no Premium to pay.

All Policies are NON FORFEITABLE and have a CASH surrender value after the FIRST payment.

This Company issues LIFE ENDOWMENT SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITY and every description of Policy on FIRST CLASS RISKS at Cost, returning Profits to Policy holders. Payments can be made for life in 10 years in 5 years or in ONE SINGLE PREMIUM—at option of Insurers. Dividends do NOT cease with Payments but continue whilst the Policy is in force.

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further to Evans Pass the highest point on the road by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent Bonds at the rate of from $16 000 to $48 000 per mile for which it takes a second lien as security and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12 800 acres of land to the mile which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon E D Morgan and Hon Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent and as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is in fact a Government Work built under the supervision of Government officers and to a large extent with Government money and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 95 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U S CURRENCY they are the cheapest security in the market being more than 15 per cent lower than U S Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

THESE WHEELS UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this late driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c &c

The following is from the Springfield Republic

Trial of Water Wheels.

Messrs Jonathan Child and John A McCreight, who are about establishing mills and factories at Harper's Ferry, Va, wished to procure water wheels, and desiring to make a choice of Springfield Wheels, procured a trial between the Leffel Double-Turbine and the Welch and Burns Wheel. The following report of the Committee shows the result of the trial.

SPRINGFIELD O Oct 11 1867

This is to certify that on the 9th and 10th days of October 1867 in company with Mr Staley, Civil Engineer of Mechanicsburg, carefully measured the amount of water used in the test between the 10 inch Leffel Turbine and the [illegible] Welch & Burns Water Wheels made by Bell [illegible] Blake & Baker, made at Weimer's mill near West Milton, Miami Co. O. The contract required [illegible] gates and ¾ gates with [illegible] of water [illegible] each wheel. The amount of grinding was superintended by Mr Charles Morgan, who will report the results.

The amount of water used in the tests as measured by myself and Mr Staley is as follows

	C ft per min
At ½ gate the Leffel Wheel used	88 224
Welch & Burns used	88 224
At ¾ gate the Leffel Wheel used	117 528
Welch & Burns used	117 528

The grinding was continued [illegible] for each test.
WILLIAM BROWN
Civil Engineer

Conciliate the South

The following extract from a powerful [illegible] lately delivered by Senator Stewart, of N[illegible] is alike opportune and just. Every loyal blood will burn who reads these eloquent [illegible]

Again we are appealed to to conciliate the [illegible]. What further concessions are we call[illegible] make? Have we not tried conciliation [illegible] foundation of the Government? Have we not sacrificed justice and humanity to appease the [illegible] passions, prejudice and tyranny of the slave[illegible] ers long enough? Are not our statute [illegible] with enactments to rivet the bonds of the [illegible] Are not the reports of the highest judicial [illegible] nal disfigured with elaborate defenses of [illegible] holders pretensions? Have we not sub[illegible] enough to be slave catchers for the South? [illegible] we not bowed low enough in the dust in vain attempts to allay their royal displeasure? And after all this were we not required to [illegible] rifice of life and property unparalleled in [illegible] history to restrain the wrath of these [illegible] rebels engendered only by the election of [illegible]ham Lincoln as President of the United S[illegible] When I reflect upon the crimes committed [illegible] of his first election and when I [illegible] manner of his death by [illegible] of his [illegible] and the fearful results that have followed the [illegible]mission of that crime I sometimes feel [illegible] power of conciliation was then exhausted.

But we did not stop at the [illegible] of [illegible] Lincoln—we tried further measures of [illegible]tion, and offered oblivion for the past and restoration to the Union on terms so [illegible] magnanimous as to astonish the civil[illegible] and were again repulsed and [illegible]. And Democratic party ask us to conciliate [illegible] friends. They say it is impossible to [illegible] the conflicting opinions in this country [illegible] conciliation. Let loyalty then be [illegible] Let something be done to sooth the [illegible] sorrow stricken in the North. The [illegible] the human heart are not monopolized by [illegible] who sought to destroy the Gove[illegible]. Let [illegible] rebels make some atonement for the barba[illegible] Andersonville and Libby prison! Let [illegible] least, give a pledge in the shape of a [illegible]al amendment that the widows and [illegible] those who have fallen shall not be [illegible] pensions by repudiation of the Federal [illegible] the instrumentality of rebel votes. Let [illegible] see by their conduct and bearing that [illegible] not victorious in the war and do not [illegible] humiliate our soldiers, or make [illegible] Let the rebel press cease to discharge its [illegible] in vile abuse of everything [illegible] honor. When force is agitated let the [illegible] conciliated. When the President [illegible] party and as he tells us, "deliberately [illegible] the very serious and important qu[illegible] of [illegible]ance to the laws for the restoration of the [illegible] let the scarred veterans of Grant, Sherman [illegible] Sheridan be conciliated. Let [illegible] who cry keep the [illegible] conciliate [illegible] and outraged people. Those who [illegible] rebellion will secure the fruits of victory [illegible] bly if they can—forcibly if they must. Let [illegible] who believe the people are actuated only [illegible] judice of race against race [illegible] the [illegible] cry of "negro equality," "negro supr[illegible] bend the pregnant hinges of the knee to [illegible] rebels for office and power, but let [illegible] ing that they will fall where [illegible] they will not only merit, but receive [illegible] of mankind.

Disguise it as you will, there are [illegible] to this question—the usurp[illegible] loyal. The former are resolved either to [illegible] this Government or make it sub[illegible] purposes, the latter to maintain the [illegible] the Constitution upon the broad principles of [illegible]tice and humanity. Let the timid and [illegible]ing politician and the selfish and [illegible] Mammon, who have no principle, [illegible] appeals of justice and humanity [illegible] their interest and aid the side [illegible] likely to be successful at the end of the [illegible] although it be continued for ages. [illegible] can transmit to their posterity [illegible] Government, coming [illegible] that loyalty, too, may be [illegible] think the cause of rebellion is [illegible] ant and a loyal people are to be [illegible] sacrifices to sustain this Gove[illegible] count the cost of subjugating the [illegible] grand whose honor is involved [illegible] insulted in the person of the humbl[illegible] that loves his country.

Mr President, I have no fears for the [illegible] I believe that there is more good [illegible] I believe that a kind Providence is [illegible] destinies of America, that the Republic is to [illegible] not only in name but in fact, the [illegible] justice, humanity, and universal liberty.

"The Ancient Landmarks."

As the "Democratic" Convention assembles in Portland to-day, the present is an opportune occasion for making a brief inquiry into the past history of that party. We propose to group together some facts from its written record hoping that they will materially assist the Committee on Resolutions in preparing a platform which shall accord with "the ancient landmarks," and present the "time honored principles of Democracy."

It is all important that the platform should be founded on a solid basis. It should therefore begin with the first resolution of the platform which was adopted by the "Democratic" State Convention of Oregon in 1864. For the convenience of the platform makers, we quote:

Resolved, 1st. That we renew our faith in, and devotion to, the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798-9, and the ancient landmarks of the Democracy.

Will the party go back from the "ancient landmarks?" We shall see. It ought to be observed here that just three years before the "Democrats" of Oregon "renewed their faith" as above shown, "President" Davis, of the Confederate States of America, addressed a message to his Congress, [illegible] that they had withdrawn from the Union in conformity with the doctrines of the Resolutions of 1798-9, and that the Democratic party, by its reiterated affirmation and adoption of those [illegible] stood committed to the principles [illegible] justified secession. For the further information and convenience of the Committee on Resolutions in the Convention to-day, we refer them to "President" Davis' message of April 29, 1861.

Almost equally valuable as an exposition of the nature and powers of the Government, and as an [illegible]plification of the workings of the resolutions of '98 which the Oregon "Democracy" have been accustomed to "renew their faith in," is the last annual message of President Buchanan. By this document the nation [illegible] that "no power is delegated to Congress or to any other department of the Federal Government to coerce into submission a State which is attempting to withdraw, or has actually withdrawn, from the Union." Wouldn't it be well, in view of possible future contingencies, for the "Democratic" Convention to reaffirm something of this kind? For who knows but the [illegible] States may, at some future time, conclude [illegible] their delegated powers" and find it [illegible] to deny the right of the Government to [illegible] them into submission?" The "Democratic" party, if guided by broad views of statesmanship, will look to the future and provide for [illegible]. As its past record is as clear on [illegible] it should preserve its purity, and never, even by silence, acquiesce in the outrageous [illegible]stitutional and tyrannical doctrine that the [illegible] Government may coerce into [illegible] a State which chooses to withdraw [illegible] the Union. That the record of the party may be kept perfectly consistent on this point we [illegible] recommend that Beriah Brown, who, we believe, is a member of the Convention, shall offer a resolution in these words, which he will find in his leading editorial in the San Francisco [illegible], of June 26th, 1864:

Resolved, That "the pretence of using the military [illegible] of the Government to suppress rebellion, [illegible] put down insurrection, or compelling the [illegible] seceding States to the Union by force [illegible] is all false, and aimed at the principles [illegible] the Government was founded."

[illegible] the Convention have thus "renewed their [illegible] time honored principles" and settled [illegible] legality of the "ancient landmarks," [illegible] they have thus reaffirmed the doctrines held by their two Presidents, Buchanan and Davis, [illegible] by their party through the whole [illegible] of the war; after they have thus declared [illegible] for the grand individuating principles of [illegible] which make Democracy what Democracy is, it [illegible] easy to construct the rest of the platform. [illegible] resolution about the "nigger," one about [illegible] and one about bonds, and the whole may be [illegible] complete. So much as to the platform. We will now improve the opportunity to [illegible] some select Democratic reading of a mis[illegible] sort, drawn from the most authentic [illegible]itative sources. We do this in the hope that it will be found interesting to the gentlemen [illegible] compose the Convention, and illustrative [illegible] way of the "time-honored principles" [illegible] endeavored to recall to their recollection.

On the 18th of January, 1861, George H. Pendleton, three years later the Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, and now their declared [illegible] in the States west of Ohio for President, said in a speech in Congress:

"Now, sir, what force of arms can compel a State [illegible] do that which she has agreed to do? What [illegible] of arms can compel a State to refrain from [illegible] that which her State government, supported by the [illegible] of her people, is determined to [illegible] * * * Sir, the whole scheme of [illegible] is impracticable. It is contrary to the [illegible] and spirit of the Constitution.

The State governments of the South, "supported by the sentiment of their people" were determined to "persist in rebellion," and Pendleton, following the "genius and spirit of the Constitution," as expounded in the Resolutions of '98, declared the whole scheme of coercion violative of the fundamental law. The [illegible], he held, should be let alone. He said further:

"If your differences are so great that you cannot or will not reconcile them, then, gentlemen, let the seceding sisters depart in peace; let them establish their government and empire and work out their [illegible] according to the wisdom which God has given them.

And again:

"If the Southern States cannot be conciliated, [illegible] you [illegible] not find it in your hearts to grant their demands; if they must leave the family mansion, I would [illegible] their departure by tokens of love; and I would bid them farewell so tenderly [illegible] would be ever touched by their recollection of it.

While the Southern rebels, in 1860, were preparing the great conspiracy, ex President Pierce wrote the following words of encouragement to Jefferson Davis:

"If fighting comes it will not be along Mason and Dixon's line merely. It will be within our own borders, in our own streets, between the two classes of citizens to whom I have referred. If we ever reach the arbitrament of arms, they, (abolitionists) will find employment enough at home.

In April, 1864, Alexander Long, a Democratic member of Congress who was held in high estimation by his party, said on the floor of the House:

"Pride of territorial ambition is a vulgar and low ambition of national greatness. I do not believe there can be any prosecution of the war against a sovereign State under the Constitution, and I do not believe that a war so carried on can be prosecuted so as to render it proper, justifiable or expedient. There are but two alternatives, and they are either an acknowledgement of the [illegible] of the South or their complete subjugation; and of these alternatives I prefer the former.

It would be easy to continue these extracts to any extent, all from the best Democratic sources. We might quote at length and to the same effect from that high Democratic authority, Vallandigham; from the Woods, Ben. and Fernando, from Richardson of Illinois, and Harris of Maryland, from Democratic platforms in Indiana, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and California. We might multiply extracts by the yard from Democratic papers published during the rebellion, all teeming with the same spirit of "Democracy" which is manifested in the remarks we have quoted. But we trust we have given enough for the purposes of the Convention which will meet here to-day,—and that our timely efforts will be rewarded by seeing that assemblage put forth a platform strictly in accordance with the "time honored principles of the party." All of which is respectfully submitted.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 18.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Supreme Court has decided unconstitutional the State law of Nevada levying a tax of one dollar each on passengers leaving that State by coach or railroad.

The Congressional proceeding yesterday was of little importance. In the Senate, Sherman from the Finance Committee reported the House bill exempting certain manufactures from internal revenue tax, with amendments relating to tax on turpentine, coffee, roasted or ground and all articles used as substitute for coffee, [illegible] spices mustard, refined sugars, products of sugar refineries, on sugar candy, confectionery on liquor, desirable pro[illegible] [illegible] limitations [illegible] jewelry. The bill leaves the tax on distilled spirits and all other existing duties unchanged. He gave notice that he would call it up to-morrow. The remainder of the session was consumed in discussing the bill granting $16,000 per mile to enable the Central Branch of the Union Pacific railroad to connect with the main line beyond Omaha. Without action adjourned.

In the House, a number of bills were introduced, mostly local.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Washington specials say the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs had under consideration to-day the treaties for the purchase of Samana Bay and St. Thomas. They were discussed at great length. No decision was reached in either case. They will probably both be reported on adversely.

The impeachment managers had a session to-day completing arrangements for the coming trial. No more witnesses will be examined. The Committee feel confident that it will not be necessary to withdraw any articles.

The President nominated John Hancock, of Philadelphia, brother of Gen. Hancock, Collector of Internal Revenue at New Orleans to succeed Gen. Steedman.

Advices from Texas show that 57,000 votes were cast for the Convention, being nearly 4,000 majority of all the registered voters. Ninety delegates were elected, all Republicans and none colored. Republicans fear that unless Hancock be removed they will be unable to ratify the Constitution. He removed troops from rampant rebel neighborhoods and sent them to the frontiers, leaving Union men and freedmen to be overawed. The loyal Registration Boards appointed by Sheridan have all been removed. A Committee of the Louisiana State Constitutional Convention waited upon Hancock in reference to holding an election for State officers when the new Constitution is voted upon. Hancock distinctly refused to order or protect such election unless ordered by Grant. The Committee has nevertheless ordered such election to be held, and say they have appealed to Grant to issue the necessary orders to Hancock.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The House Foreign Affairs committee had a long session over the Alaska appropriation, but reached no conclusion. Considerable diversity of opinion exists among members on the question.

In the Senate, Edmunds rose to a personal explanation. He said a resolution had been adopted by the Joint Retrenchment committee reported that they had seen with surprise and comment in the newspapers purporting to be a report of that committee on the subject of whiskey frauds. The report, though made by a member of the committee was made on his own responsibility and he was not authorized to do so by the committee, the subject never having been referred to them. The committee said they deemed it necessary to make the explanation.

Morrill introduced a bill to provide for the temporary government of Alaska.

Ramsey, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to establish an assay office in Idaho with the amendments.

At the expiration of the morning hour, Sherman called up the House bill to exempt certain manufactures from tax. Certain amendments were proposed by the committee and agreed to.

Van Winkle offered an amendment reducing tax on refined petroleum one half, which gave rise to a protracted debate.

Morrill and Sherman opposed the motion. The amendment was finally agreed to. Ayes 22, noes 20.

In the House, Jencks offered an explanation in regard to the Retrenchment Committee's report similar to that made by Edmunds in the Senate. The House after some miscellaneous business resumed the consideration of the bill to relieve certain Southerners from political disabilities. Several amendments were offered inserting other names and rejected. The bill after considerable discussion was recommitted with instructions to the Committee to report with a brief statement of each case giving reasons of the Committee for recommending the relief.

The House proceeded to the regular business of the morning hour—the consideration of the bill continuing the Freedmen's bureau. Adams spoke against the bill till the morning hour expired, when it went over.

The House then proceeded to consider the bill for the admission of Alabama. Several members addressed the House in opposition.

Stevens of Pennsylvania, rising at the Clerk's desk said: "Mr Speaker—After full examination of the returns from Alabama, I am satisfied to force a vote on this bill, and admit the State against our own law while there is a deficiency of twenty odd thousand votes against it, would not be doing such justice in legislation as would be expected by the people. That being the case, I move the bill be recommitted." The motion was agreed to.

Pollard introduced a substitute which was also referred to the House. Adjourned.

Laborers for California.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The World says 1,200 laborers sailed on the Henry Chauncey for San Francisco in search of employment.

Great Storm at the East.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A Lansingburg dispatch says there is a terrible freshet. The aqueduct at Crescent has been swept away, carrying with it 30 canal boats. At Schenectady the bridges had all been carried away and the destruction of property was immense. The Housatonic, Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroad bridge near Waterford is destroyed. The water is receding.

CHICAGO, March 17.—A furious rain storm, accompanied by violent wind, thunder and lightning, passed over this city last night. The telegraph wires refused to work, and no news was received from the east. A house in the north division was blown down and a woman instantly killed, and a man probably fatally injured.

St. Patrick's Day was enthusiastically celebrated by processions, &c., notwithstanding the bad state of the weather.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Reports arrive from all directions of damage by the storm last night. It seems to have been general all over the country. Houses were blown down and railroad tracks badly damaged. From fifty to fifty-five buildings were blown down and a number of others more or less damaged in this city. Several lives are reported lost at various places.

Further About the Storm.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The storm Monday night raged throughout Ohio and all States north of the Ohio river to the Mississippi river, also in Kentucky, Tennessee, Iowa, Missouri, etc. Great damages are reported. The draw of the Great Mississippi Railroad bridge, at Rock Island, was lifted from the pivot and broken in two, falling into the river. One man was killed and three badly injured.

Col. L. B. Greggsby, of Ky., has been appointed Inspector of Customs of the United States at Panama.

Southern Constitutions.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 17.—The Convention adjourned, after signing the Constitution.

CHARLESTON, March 17.—The Convention adjourned sine die. The Constitution contains 15 articles and 213 sections.

From Mexico.

HAVANA, March 16.—William Moran, a Mexican editor, committed suicide.

Another conspiracy against the government of Juarez had been discovered.

Morales' account for furnishing supplies for hospitals and prisons during the empire has been recognized as legal. A Cabinet council had been held at the capital, with Iglesias as President.

The election of Sanchez Ochoa to Congress had been annulled and he has again been thrown into prison.

The colonists from Galveston arrived at Tuxpan.

The Mexican Congress has adjourned till March 25th. Many points of legislation are left untouched. The railroad concessions have not been discussed. It is feared that the English contractors will be deprived of their rights and the roads be seized by other parties. It is thought that propositions for a new road between Vera Cruz and Pueblo will not be carried. The general situation of affairs is unsatisfactory. Fears and troubles are universal. Incendiary fires, robberies and murders are frequent in the capital, and the streets of the city are unsafe at night.

HAVANA, March 17.—Tifft is here and reports that Minister Romero is straining every nerve to restore the national credit. Passengers from Vera Cruz say some Congressmen are discussing the expediency of expelling all Spaniards unless they become naturalized citizens. Nearly all the parties engaged in the late conspiracy are Spaniards. Troops had been sent from Santiago de Cuba. The Captain General, Lersundi, is there, and had given the same banner to the volunteer as to the regular troops.

NEW YORK, March 17.—City of Mexico specials to the Herald, state that a report is prevalent that Marquez is about instituting an expedition against the Republic. Several foreigners had been arrested, and an American had been ordered to leave the country. A battle took place on the 19th of February between Rubs and Martinez near Mazatlan. Ruba was routed. Pedierro Diaz is mentioned for Minister.

HAVANA, March 13.—Several Spanish officers in Mexican service have been implicated in the late conspiracy. The plan was concerted with Santa Anna, Marquez and others, and had for its object to proclaim Ortega. Some of them will probably be shot. Juarez will probably send a commission to Gen. Lersundi, asking him to observe the neutrality laws.

From Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Herald's special from Havana says when Madame Ristori was announced to play the character of Teresa, the Bishop of Havana interfered and denounced the performance to the authorities, but he was not much heeded. The Bishop in consequence, ordered all the curates of all the districts through which Gen. Lersundi was to pass on a tour through the country not to ring the church bells in his [illegible]. Lersundi returned and telegraphed to Madrid, when he received a reply to make himself respected. The Bishop has been put under arrest at his palace, but will probably be sent to Porto Rico to await orders from Madrid.

The Cadiz mail steamer has been detained to by Gen. Lersundi to take on board two refractory Curates.

It is reported that export duties are to be increased. Later advices say Lersundi ordered the Bishop to leave the Island for his insubordination to the first authority of Cuba.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

NAPLES, March 16.—The Herald's special says that Farragut left the city to-day for Rome. He was escorted to the railroad station by the principal citizens of Naples.

LONDON, March 17.—Recent developments lead to the belief that the attempt of the Fenians to induce soldiers of the regular army to forsake their allegiance and join the ranks of the Fenian organization, have not relaxed, but are still carried on in Ireland, England and Scotland.

A man named Mahon, said to be the Fenian military organizer, has been arrested in this city, charged with having endeavored to swear in soldiers stationed here as Fenians. It is rumored that Mahon's efforts were not unattended with success, and evidence will be produced at trial to show the disaffection of privates to an alarming degree in an Irish regiment.

LONDON, March 17.—The House of Commons resumed the debate on Irish Reform. Gladstone said that Irish tenants were wanting in enterprise and should be encouraged by every possible means in making improvements on their farms. As to the church it was the duty of ministers of the crown to make out and submit a different plan of treatment of that subject. Meanwhile parliament should lay no unnecessary time in taking action itself in favor of religious equality in Ireland. He entertained the hope that the ministry fully realized the gravity of the Irish. It was in vain to rely upon time for a cure of the evils. Seven hundred years have been wasted. The Irish inhabitants of Australia and Canada were contented. The great reason of their content was that they possessed the fruits of their own labors. They enjoyed civil and religious equality but in Ireland the discontent was wide spread. The alleged material prosperity of Ireland was proof of this, notwithstanding the condition of the country as described by some of the gentlemen who preceded him. Some seemed surprised that the people of Ireland should complain of their misery. The crisis was a grave one not only on account of the rapid depopulation of Ireland by emigration, but on account of the condition of those who remained. It was the imperative duty of the government to give this question their early attention. [illegible] at once the [illegible] proceeded to review various measures for [illegible] which the ministry had proposed. Only [illegible] approved that [illegible] [illegible] which he had proposed in 1844.

The adoption of the bill for the relief of Irish tenants was urgently pressed by Sir R. [illegible] [illegible] with an argument [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] similar measures had failed. [illegible] the Irish Church establishment. It was well known that the system was generally disliked. [illegible] the [illegible] this matter given [illegible] [illegible]. His speech closed with an eloquent appeal to the House to take immediate action.

Disraeli followed. He commenced by deploring his fate in attaining to office when a crisis of 700 years standing had to be settled. The Ministry which preceded him had [illegible] neglected the wrongs of [illegible]. He went on to combat the arguments of Gladstone. He denied that the action of Fenian organizations controlled events or affected the plans of the Ministry. Fenian outrages should prompt measures and hasten reforms. Ministers [illegible] were not blarneyed by the speeches of men who, when in power did nothing but make speeches now for Ireland and [illegible] the Irish Church establishment. He declared if pressed to an issue on the question the government would feel justified in making an appeal to the country. Nothing had already been to many measures of violence, too much [illegible] for party in Ireland. No measure could be called conciliatory which outraged the rights of a million and a half of men. Disraeli concluded by assuring the House that the Ministry were disposed to consider all questions which had arisen in regard to Ireland. All they asked for was time.

Maguire's resolution was withdrawn and the debate ended.

Lord Stanley stated that the government could not at present submit the papers in the Springbok case. They were in the hands of the Crown law officers. A serious political riot occurred on the island of Malta. On the 5th instant the mob attacked one of the candidates for the Portuguese Cortes. The military were called out and fired on the people, but the latter persisted and drove their victim to the sea, where he was compelled to take refuge on board a vessel off shore.

Thompson and Miliaday have been convicted in Manchester of being accessory to the murder of police sergeant Brett, and sentenced to be hanged.

ROME, March 17.—The recent ordination of the Bishops of Louisville, Erie and Buffalo has been publicly proclaimed by the Pope.

PARIS, March 17.—The Papal Government has rejected the advice of the Emperor for the pacification of Italy.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—A meeting of the leading citizens was held yesterday, to give expression to their opinion in the matter of granting tide lands to railroad companies. A committee was appointed, who presented the following resolutions this morning:

The undersigned, citizens of San Francisco, having no interest in either the Central Pacific or Southern Pacific Railroads, except as such citizens, do recommend the Legislature of this State to grant to the said companies of the tide lands belonging to the State, in or near Mission Bay, outside of the red line of 1851 and south of Channel street, a tract of land not exceeding 300 acres in a compact body, for terminal purposes together with a right of way thereon not to exceed 500 feet in width, at a price per acre to be fixed by the Governor, the Surveyor General and the Mayor of the city of San Francisco, conditioned that such grant shall be void as to such company as shall fail in good faith to appropriate the same within a reasonable period, to purposes contemplated by the grant, and even earnestly request the members of the Legislature from this city to use their best exertions to secure such grant.

Addendum: We, the undersigned, desire it to be directly understood, that in case either of the above railroad companies shall fail to accept said ground, then the other company accepting and using the same for the purposes indicated shall receive not exceeding 150 acres for terminal purposes and 250 feet for right of way. The resolution was unanimously adopted and signed by the following named gentlemen: John H Redington, Thomas H Selby, Chas E McLane, M G Kittle, Oliver Eldridge, Ira P. Rankin, H B Coon, Main & Winchester, David P. Colton, A P Crittenden, B P Solon, W. C Ralston, A. Hayward, J Hunt, W. F. Babcock, Milton S Latham, Edward Martin, John O. Earl, J. F Miller, J W Ford, Frank McCoppin, Wm. H Dadger and others.

St. Patrick's Day has been celebrated in splendid style. The military display was very extensive, and the various costumes of the Irish regiments presented a very marked appearance. The various benevolent and civic societies turned out in full force. The various Fenian circles, with their badges, occupied a long line in the procession, and the Manchester Avengers was a band of resolute looking men, and presented an appearance that gave significance to their name.

The laborers in the New Almaden quicksilver mine, about 700 in number, struck this morning for regular wages. They have heretofore been working in independent gangs and taking the work by contract.

The District Court adjourned to-day, out of respect to the memory of Henry Hare Hartley.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The Colorado sailed this morning with $701,799 treasure, and 350 passengers, 1,200 hides and 37,000 pounds wool.

Yesterday P. M. a drunken fellow on horseback ran over and severely injured a little girl.

Columbia County Union Convention

ST. HELENS, March 16, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I forward to you for publication, the account of a Republican Mass Meeting of this county. A Mass Meeting of the Republicans of this county met according to appointment, at 1 o'clock P. M., March 14, 1868, in Hoxter's Hall, St. Helens. Hon. Dean Blanchard was elected President of the meeting, and E. G. Adams, Secretary. The President stated that the object of the meeting was to elect a delegate to the Union State Convention to be held at Salem March 21, 1868. Hon. James McBride was unanimously elected delegate. It was voted that the County Convention for the nomination of county officers, be held on the first Saturday in May, at 1 o'clock P. M. in Hoxter's Hall, St. Helens. It was also voted that the County Committee be requested to apportion the delegates of the several precincts, and request primary meetings to be held on the Saturday preceding the County Convention for the purpose of electing delegates to that convention. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Hon. James McBride is the unanimous choice of the Republican party of Columbia county for Member of Congress from Oregon.

It was, moreover, voted that the proceedings of this meeting be forwarded by the Secretary to the OREGONIAN and Unionist for publication. After speeches by Hon. James McBride, J. L. Ladd, G. A. Ladd, D. Holman, C. G. Caples, W. W. West, E. G. Adams and others, the meeting adjourned. It was a meeting of great good feeling and unanimity, and the Union party of Columbia county will make a vigorous campaign in the coming election.

E. G. ADAMS, Secretary.

The Record says that the Democracy of Polk county met in Convention, Saturday, and nominated for State Senator, B. F. Burch; Representatives, Fred Waymire, Jack Grant, Ira Townsend; Clerk, J. I. Thompson; Sheriff, J. W. Smith; Treasurer, R. H. May. The assemblage was decidedly inharmonious. Fists were shaken in each other's faces, the complimentary title of "liar" was freely bestowed on each other, and at the wind up some prominent Democrats were free to allow that the Union party would have an easy time electing their nominees.

A telegram from Gov. Woods, received yesterday, announces that he is in Connecticut and will start for home on Monday next. He will come overland. We presume he is making speeches in Connecticut. The election in that State will be held the first week in April.

TRUE MERIT APPRECIATED.—"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" have been before the public many years. Each year finds the Troches in some new distant localities in various parts of the world. Being an article of true merit, when once used, the value of the Troches is appreciated, and they are kept always at hand to be used as occasion requires. For Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases the Troches have proved their efficacy.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th 1867 (with circulation) under Act of Congress approved June 3d 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places of Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

THE STEAMER JOHN L. STEPHENS on her last trip has arrived at Portland and brought to KOHN & FISHEL the largest and best assortment of Gents' and Youths' Spring and Summer Suits, the latest style, and of the best material that has been offered in this city for years. The Ladies have not been forgotten. They will find by an inspection of the stock just arrived that their wants have been anticipated by a selection of dry goods, the equal of which is not often presented here.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged and finished in India ink, painted in water colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumney. Pictures that are fading can be copied in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

PREMIUM SYSTEM.

CASH, WHEN REQUIRED. NOTES ARE, HOWEVER, TAKEN to accommodate the Insurer in paying his Premiums, thus showing the confidence of the Company in its ability to declare Dividends that will eventually CANCEL THE NOTES.

How different this is from a Cash Company who exact all Cash under the plea that it is unsafe to grant this indulgence to a policy holder, when he is unable to pay his renewal premium.

REMEMBER

That the "OLD MANHATTAN" never assumes or promises Extravagant Dividends to induce insurers to come and insure with them. Their Dividends in the past have always been equal to all well managed and first class Companies, and they can offer the records of the past as an evidence of the future. It never villifies the character of other Companies to accumulate business. THE MANHATTAN'S oldest insurers are its best advocates. The business of the Company is conducted with

THE CELEBRATION OF ST PATRICK S DAY A very [illegible] editorial article appeared [illegible] the Bulletin [illegible] evening concerning the celebration of St Patrick s Day on Tuesday The general [illegible] that were [illegible] been prompted [illegible] justice [illegible] of the Bulletin s article we quote the following paragraph

"But what we see [illegible] intelligent citizens assemble [illegible] whose life is a [illegible] the emblematic [illegible] all that is good and holy celebrate the day [illegible] today we can but look [illegible] with contempt The religious mania was early to be found, but in its stead [illegible] blasphemy and con[illegible] were the prevailing elements [illegible] filled with men who might [illegible] as civilization [illegible] credit of those who were better disposed. It is [illegible] setting [illegible] of religi[illegible] debased [illegible] to respectable [illegible] they associate [illegible] the 17th of March 1868 has been [illegible] and we take [illegible] to advise our Irish brethren to let this be their last public celebration [illegible] better [illegible] them in the future"

In relation to the above we believe that all fair [illegible] will support us in saying that the celebration throughout, on the streets and at Oro Fino Hall was [illegible] with strict propriety and that there was neither [illegible] nor blasphemy nor [illegible] confusion [illegible] was nothing to call for any man s pity or any man's contempt On the contrary there was [illegible] and much of which any man might feel a just pride. It was a piece of the most gross injustice to couple with the celebration the fact that there was rowdyism in another part of the city and that the city prison was filled" etc The men Kelly Foley and McGowan—and they were the only men with whom our city prison [illegible]—were arrested long after the celebration was closed, in another and distant part of the city, for engaging in a drunken fight They are neither of them con[illegible] with any of the Irish organizations of this city nor had they participated so far as known in any part of the celebration nor are the Irish as organized societies or as individuals to be held responsible for their conduct. If, beside their acts of rowdyism there was hilarity or confusion or even drunkenness none of it was justly chargeable to the celebration or to the Irish [illegible] nor were such things more than may be seen in this city on any public holiday To thus couple the [illegible] of the Irish people collectively of Portland with the conduct of a few isolated individuals seems to us to [illegible] an outrage upon a class of respectable citizens [illegible] there can be no palliation or excuse

ROAD FROM EAST PORTLAND TO VANCOUVER —Mr Shaw arrived from Vancouver yesterday afternoon, for the [illegible] of canvassing this city and county for subscriptions to the capital stock of the proposed toll road between this city and Switzler s Landing; and also to circulate a petition to the County Commissioners for a lease of the county road for the term of ten years with privilege of repairing and using it as a toll road The latter [illegible] quite a number of signatures of residents of the county, and of this city including some of those who signed the remonstrance against the improvement of [illegible] by the county Mr Shaw says that he thinks [illegible] stock in Vancouver to the amount of $12 [illegible] He has not yet commenced the canvass in this [illegible] and cannot, of course, know with what favor the [illegible] will meet here "The road company, already organized, will advertise for sealed proposals to furnish [illegible] a steam ferry boat, on the Columbia [illegible] to furnish material and build a substantial plank [illegible] above high water mark from Love s slough to [illegible] s Landing; and to grade the road from Love s [illegible] to East Portland The petition above mentioned, [illegible] to the County Commissioners at their [illegible] It would seem that there can be no ob[illegible] to granting the lease prayed for, as the road is [illegible] useless during the greater part of the [illegible] TO BUILD A SHIP —The scarcity of tonnage [illegible] coast trade, has had the effect naturally, to [illegible] more or less discussion on the feasibility of profit[illegible] building vessels here The unemployed ship carpenters of the city have given the matter a practical [illegible] by proposing that if anybody will furnish the [illegible] to buy the material—such as cannot be made here [illegible] will build a vessel of 300 or 500 tons burthen [illegible] thinks that with an advance of $3 000 to [illegible] they can do all the rest with their labor and credit But why not use a larger [illegible] than either of these sums of the capi[illegible] is lying unavailable, because of the scarci[illegible] and build a line of barks, consisting of [illegible] and class as will carry all the slow freight [illegible] the Columbia and San Francisco? The [illegible] in that direction at Coos Bay and on Puget [illegible] have proven decidedly successful, and remunerative [illegible] owners. The Board of Underwriters of San [illegible] some months ago, published a report on the [illegible] of doing so with San Francisco capital with [illegible] profit in freighting If those men after long [illegible] examination of the matter, of cost of building [illegible] of the carrying trade conclude that such [illegible] must be profitable and safe can there be [illegible] putting Portland capital to that use?

[illegible] ALMATIA —The bark Almatia, Richardson [illegible], arrived yesterday morning, eight days from San [illegible] with 560 tons merchandise, consigned to deal[illegible] in this City, She made the trip to the Columbia bar [illegible] days, crossed without detention, Monday [illegible] and was towed up by the Couch, Tuesday The [illegible] is list of her consignees and the number of [illegible] each R & L, 8 pkgs, K B & Co 121; [illegible] & Co, 100 F & K, 50 W N H in diamond, [illegible] 195; C & G, Dalles, 40 H C & Co, 71, W [illegible] Darley, 30 E A H & Co 69, N H in dia[illegible] C & Co, 154 R D, 30 J W W 14; E J N & [illegible] in diamond, 1,867 S & D, 6; Underhill & Co [illegible] 84, W P A 2 Wasco 1 C & M, 281 H & [illegible] K, 165, O H in diamond 360, A Hayward 171 [illegible] J and C, 100 K & F, 37; A & L, 404, A H [illegible] W, 10; W in diamond & Co 20, H W C 10 R, [illegible] DeRell, 3 O S N 3 H in diamond 50, R Im[illegible] R F, 60; M Seller 300 K 24 F J N & Co 21 [illegible]; M S, 100 H in diamond, 65, Underhill & Co, [illegible] & Co, 7, J W Welch, 2

[illegible] CITY —The Walla Walla Statesman says of the [illegible]: "During our late trip below we were agreeably [illegible] to see the marked improvements that have been [illegible] at that point during the last few months In walk[illegible] the town, we noticed quite a number of pret[illegible] that have been put up lately Mr Robert [illegible] has just finished a large and handsome flouring [illegible] The woolen mill is in course of erection; it is the [illegible] of the stockholders to make it a fine imposing [illegible] We are informed that the Secretary of the Trea[illegible] has given orders for the commencement of the work [illegible] at an early day. Taken altogether the Dalles [illegible] quite a business-like appearance"

[illegible] HUNDRED STRONG —The steamer Alert [illegible] down a regular horde of people, all bound for [illegible] the Convention—candidates, delegates, man[illegible] etc As they flocked ashore from the [illegible] they seemed to number about three hundred thous[illegible] when sifted out from the crowd of hotel run[illegible] hack drivers, draymen and spectators on the wharf [illegible] down to say, three hundred or perhaps [illegible] hundred, and we won't fall another Democrat If [illegible] are to have a hand in the making of the Demo[illegible] both it will be impossible to guess what the hodge[illegible] will be.

[illegible]'s COURT —There were two charges be[illegible] the [illegible] der yesterday against Mary Ann Stratin—[illegible] conduct and one for assault and bat[illegible] Miss Robinson Each charge was tried by a [illegible] verdict on the first was "not guilty" and in [illegible] "guilty" She will appear this morning for [illegible] Indian Tom for smiting an "aborigine of [illegible] years and putting a head onto him," was fined [illegible] in default of which he goes to jail for five [illegible] Holloway and the other fightingers of Tuesday [illegible] will have trials this morning

[illegible] CARS.—The Almatia brought up three hand [illegible] to the O. S. N. Co., and to be used on [illegible] probably above the Dalles They are [illegible] rigged with such gearing that two men by turn[illegible] may propel them at considerable speed [illegible] dock and in transit to the O S N Co wharf [illegible] much curiosity among people who had never [illegible] railroad car and about nine out of every ten [illegible] itching to take a turn at the cranks [illegible] things

[illegible] ASTORIA —The Couch from Astoria yesterday [illegible] reports that when she left on Tuesday morning [illegible] John L. Stephens and Fidelitor had steam [illegible] up with the intention of putting to sea Immediately [illegible] which had been heavy and foul for several [illegible] had cleared up and was pleasant Everything at [illegible] was about as usual except that the presence of [illegible] lent an air of liveliness to the town

—Arrived yesterday per steamer Wenat [illegible] Oregon City 233 qr sacks flour and 2 boxes eggs [illegible] 197 sacks feed 373 boxes apples 6 hf bbls [illegible] 4 cans lard Per Alert 2 bales woolen [illegible] boxes eggs 76 boxes apples 290 gunnies [illegible] fruit trees 6 sacks Yaquina oysters 2 bbls [illegible] 13 gunnies bacon 2 bales furs 6 sacks oil cake

[illegible] BROKEN —There are three street lamps in the [illegible] portion of the city of which the glasses are [illegible] so that on windy nights the lights are frequently [illegible] On several occasions lately they have [illegible] while the gas continued to flow making a [illegible] for all the neighborhood round about

[illegible] FOR OREGON —The bark Live Yankee is reported [illegible] to be up for Oregon and to sail as soon as cargo can be [illegible] in The Fullenburg is on the way in ballast The [illegible] W Almy and the Brewster will sail in a short [illegible] All of these will load with produce on their re[illegible] trip to San Francisco

[illegible] COUNCIL —There was no quorum of the City Coun[illegible] [illegible] at the chamber last evening—his [illegible] Mayor Chapman and Councilmen Besser Burch [illegible] Porter, being the only ones present At eight o clock [illegible] declared the Council adjourned to the next [illegible] time of meeting

[illegible] —Says the Walla Walla Statesman If you [illegible] want to hear railroad talk visit Portland The people [illegible] there have got it on the [illegible] bad Old men talk noth[illegible] ing else, small [illegible] When it will end [illegible] no one knows It will [illegible] Portland of course as [illegible] everybody knows.

THE AJAX —The steamer Ajax was telegraphed from Monticello at about [illegible] o clock last evening, and arrived [illegible] 2 o clock A M

OYSTERS.—Fresh Yaquina Bay oysters may be found [illegible] today at Jack s M[illegible] near Chop House At Bar[illegible] this, fresh oysters from a new bed discovered near [illegible], San Francisco

The Pain Killer Abroad.

The following correspondence will show something of the estimation in which Perry Davis Pain Killer is held on the shores of the Mediterranean It is not surprising that a medicine that receives such testimonials as this from abroad should find well sustained and increasing appreciation at home

U S CONSULATE Tunis Dec 27 1865

To the Proprietors of Davis' Pain Killer Providence, R I —Gentlemen —The enclosed has just been received from my friend Tulin late Consul General of Norway and Sweden and of Prussia in this place No comment is needed Truly yours, AMOS PERRY

GENOA December 16 1865

Dear Sir —Accept thanks for this third supply of Davis' Pain Killer This medicine has often relieved me of serious indisposition and I would not on any account consent to be without it both for myself and my family

I have recommended it to my late colleagues and friends in Tunis and Genoa and at my request one of the largest druggists in this city has sent an order to New York to meet the demand in this place

Yours truly G A TULIN,

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility Nervousness Depression of Spirits Constipation Colic Intermittent Fevers Sea Sickness Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

ST PATRICK'S DAY.

ORATION DELIVERED BY JOHN DONOVAN, MARCH 17TH, 1868, AT ORO FINO HALL, PORTLAND

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen At the solicitation of those gentlemen who compose the Committee of Arrangements delegated by the various Irish American civil and military organizations of this city for celebrating the anniversary of Ireland's patron Saint with due pomp and solemnity, I appear before you to-day to address you on as important so solemn and so sublime a topic as the one which is spoken of in different parts of the world in commemoration of Ireland's patron Saint and the Irishman's Fatherland. I assure you, my fellow citizens it is with extreme reluctance I assume the task, knowing full well my inability and limited capacity to do anything like justice to so vast and important a subject as the anniversary of St Patrick's Day. It recalls to the minds of Irishmen and their descendants the memories of ages ere

"The Roman or the Saxon, the Norman or the Dane,
Had first set foot on Briton or trampled heaps of slain

It matters not what part of the habitable globe they dwell on, whether on the Mississippi or the Indus, the fond recollections of St Patrick's Day carries them back in thought to the land of their fathers, where all the scenes of childhood's happy days rise up in sublime beauty before the imagination.

How vividly appear to the minds of Irishmen all the joys and sorrows, sufferings and tribulations of their race these thousand years past! On reflection, what anguish and grief it sends to his very soul when he contemplates the many futile efforts made to regenerate his native land!—the rivers of blood that have been shed in the field and on the scaffold whilst endeavoring to place her again in the catalogue of nations! A holy horror comes stealing o'er the spirit of his dreams when he meditates and ponders on the virtue and fortitude of those numerous departed martyrs who offered up their pure lives as a holocaust on the altars of their country's liberty, whilst endeavoring to burst the galling fetters of British bondage. All the licentiousness and indulgences that a vile and corrupt government could bestow have been conferred on the mercenary vampires who are ready to be the pliant tools to crush and persecute the noble souled patriots who have sacrificed everything they held dear on this earth even life—for the amelioration of their [illegible] country. It is not necessary for me to enter into the long list of grievances that Ireland has suffered; it would fill volumes, all of which might have been written with the blood of her martyred sons—but all to no purpose, but to instill into the minds of the rising generation the [illegible] acts of the tyrant and usurper, who scattered her people broadcast throughout the universe, on the eastern and western hemispheres, through out the torrid and frigid zones.

What a contrast do we find between the Irishmen at home and abroad! In the land of his birth all the avenues to distinction and honors are closed against him unless he condescends to be [illegible] the vassal of a partisan aristocracy, whose [illegible] object is to crush the peasant and drive him from the soil of his ancestors, when he is [illegible] to seek refuge amid the pestilence of an [illegible] ship or perish from the wintry blast [illegible] being despoiled of his patrimony and inheritance.

Ireland has no parallel in the annals of history. We have heard and read of famines in different parts of the world from various causes and calamities, such as long and protracted sieges and great [illegible] throughout the land, but there her towns and fair cities were made desolate with famine in the midst of plenty; one class reveled in luxury [illegible], mingled in all the gaiety and festivity of the day, whilst pestilence and desolation [illegible] ravaging many a peasant's cot through the length and breadth of the land. We have but to [illegible] the Irish export statistics of that period and find that hundreds of thousands of cattle and vast quantities of grain, poultry and food of every description were shipped from Irish seaports, to feed the English masses, while many a stout [illegible] and noble soul were swept into eternity for want of common necessaries to sustain life.

Fellow citizens, this is awful to contemplate. [illegible] or modern history, sacred or profane, contains nothing to equal it. Naturally the sage and [illegible] will ask the cause of this. The problem is easily solved—misgovernment and class [illegible].

We find the Irishmen in every country where [illegible] and talent are rewarded with trust and [illegible], coming in for his share. In every [illegible] on land and sea, he makes his mark; in the army and navy, in the pulpit, at the bar, in [illegible] with that all-powerful lever, the press. All this at some future day will be wielded against [illegible] England. Every Irishman firmly believes in this manifest destiny, and will be the [illegible] future period of inflicting proper [illegible] for the centuries and wrongs of past [illegible]. The Irishman of to-day exultingly beholds [illegible] and advancement of his race on this [illegible] our glorious free institutions, [illegible] course of future events and the increase [illegible] of his [illegible] is bound to wield an influence [illegible] National Policy. He is always found [illegible] his blood in defence of the liberty [illegible] when he reaches these shores, [illegible] to maintain our laws and Constitution [illegible] find him to-day, thousands of miles away [illegible] his native land, organized for one of the [illegible] and noble purposes. Its object is [illegible] on that banner. What act more philanthropic [illegible] man to his fellow man, than [illegible] of the Hibernian Society, "We visit [illegible] and bury the dead?"

[illegible] Society or its precursor, called the [illegible] Sons of St. Patrick," dates back in the early history of these United States. It was organized in Philadelphia almost a century ago. [illegible] were published in a certain periodical [illegible], edited and published in that city by one of its members, named John Binns [illegible] pioneers and publishers of [illegible]. On looking over these [illegible] are to be found the names of General Washington, General Sullivan, General Conway, General Wayne and General Montgomery, together with several other Revolutionary celebrities of [illegible], as being honorary members of this [illegible] association. During the dark days of the Revolutionary struggle, was heard the [illegible] voice of Ireland consoling us through her Parliament from across the broad Atlantic. On another occasion have we beheld Irish friendship and [illegible] loyalty. When that bold and intrepid [illegible], Ethan Allen, was on his return from England, where he was held captive as prisoner of war, that bark which bore home our noble hero had to seek refuge in the Cove of Cork from the impending storm. The citizens of that place, true to their generous natures, on learning that that distinguished American patriot and soldier was on board, waited on the noble warrior with their tribute of respect, a handsome purse and clothing, such as was adapted to the wants of him and his companions after their long absence and confinement, much to the chagrin and displeasure of the English Captain.

At a later period, when that hydra-headed monster [illegible] was striking at the very vitals of our national existence, we hear again that consoling voice of Ireland, re-echoing back from [illegible] Bay and the mountains of Donegal, urging her sons to battle to maintain our glorious Union one and inseparable, and admonishing us not to forsake that emblem of liberty, the old Stars and Stripes.

When I look around me and see so many stalwart men and fair women assembled together, the farmer leaving his plow, the workmen the spade and [illegible], all having laid aside the cares and toils of life to honor and celebrate the anniversary of St. Patrick's Day, it is a self evident fact that there is something sacred and sublime connected with his life and history. Though it is more than [illegible] centuries ago since he departed this life, thousands of miles away from where our local and political prejudices vanish and the spirit of religious intolerance is consigned to oblivion, the exile's heart pulsates more strongly for freedom for Erin on the dawning of this day

"Tho' dark are our sorrows, to day we'll forget them
And smile through our tears like a sunbeam in showers,
For there never were hearts, if our rulers would let them,
More form'd to be grateful or nobler than ours."

Among those whom I behold assembled to honor and celebrate the importance of this day, and hand it down to posterity, are the representatives of the Fenian Brotherhood whose organization dates back in Irish history long anterior to the days when Cæsar crossed the Rubicon, or Philip organized his great Macedonian Phalanx. Its athletic sports were cotemporaneous with the Olympia games of Athens and Sparta. Although it combined in its ranks other elements, it constituted the National Guard or Militia, none of its members being allowed to enter without undergoing the different tests of strength, wrestling and fleetness of foot, together with the use of the cross-bow, javelin and battleax. A member of this corps, when once approved, the chronicler read him the laws and penalties. Should he ever prove guilty of cowardice or dishonor, he then had to proclaim aloud to the multitude his unblemished pedigree back to the ancient chieftain, Milesius. They are organized to day in different parts of the world for a noble object—to restore liberty to dear old Fatherland, and only await a favorable opportunity to strike the oppressor. Recent events have demonstrated these facts, when husbands forsook their wives and fathers their children. Men of honor and wealth sacrificed luxury and comfort and crossed the ocean to draw their swords, but alas, now pine in British dungeons, all through the means of disorganization. We have beheld in instance, where a few of these determined patriots, surrounded on all sides by military cavalcades, in one of England's greatest manufacturing emporiums, called Manchester with its countless thousands of inhabitants, in the face of that immense multitude, did advance to the rescue of two of their doomed companions and nobly dared to set them free, notwithstanding they fully knew their lives would pay the penalty. But what of that? It only proves that there are still more victims ready for the sacrifice.

Let us look at England's neutral position these last few years in the different European controversies and see what is the cause of it. In former years she had been engaged in all the Court intrigues and coalitions of Europe. Was it not through her gold and influence that the burning embers of the city of Moscow illuminated the heavens, which caused one of the noblest armies that ever marched to battle to perish on the frozen snow of Russia? Was it not she that destroyed the Spanish Armada and the French squadrons at Trafalgar? Is she less powerful to-day than then? Certainly not. But she beholds the hostile Irishman at every cardinal point where her cruel oppressions have driven him. His sword is sheathed but ready. This she fully knows and dreads the consequences like a sinner with a guilty conscience. And had the administration of President Johnson granted the same neutral rights to Irishmen that England did the Southern Confederates, every one of them from Labrador to Cape Horn would be up in arms, and ere to-day that harp and sunburst would proudly wave over the Plains of Abraham, and mountains of British Columbia

If we look back at the past history of these United States, since the tocsin of war was sounded in the village of Lexington, where American liberty was baptised in the blood of her citizens we see how closely united have been the Irish race to American interests. Here as we [illegible] forth to the field and the forum and loudly proclaimed for liberty with their voices and their swords. It is with pride and satisfaction we can look back and recount the names of those illustrious Irishmen who rendered their names immortal when they came forth in the dark hour of American tribulation, without fear or favor, and placed their names on the great Magna Charta of their adopted country, the Declaration of Independence. With what ardor and zeal did Carrol, Thornton, Smith, Taylor, Reed, McKean, Rutledge and Lynch proclaim against the tyrants who had imposed so many cruel enactments on the land of their birth, and were then endeavoring to do the same with the land of their adoption. With what discernment and disinterestedness did these true and tried patriots look into the future happiness that would be conferred on mankind by their protest against British oppression. So they were fully determined to die or be endowed with all the sublime principles of political and religious liberty. We have seen with what confidence the great and noble Washington selected that worthy Irish American, Gen Milan, to fill that most important and responsible position of Private Secretary to His Excellency, when he imparted to him the innermost thoughts of his heart and the secrets of his struggling country. With what eagerness and impetuosity did the lamented Montgomery gird on his sword and leave his new made bride, to storm the stronghold of the tyrants on the heights of Quebec! With what courage and daring did Anthony Wayne wrest from the enemy's grasp the fortified position of Stony Point. With what judgment and alacrity did our high-minded Barry organize our infant navy to drive him from the ocean and our inland seas. And with what determination and sincerity did our Corcoran, Hagerty, Meagher, Sheridan, Kearney, Casey, and myriads of others fly to arms to vindicate the national honor and sustain the authority of that flag, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande.

We find this military spirit adherent in the Irish race, from the days when the Geraldine flourished his battle ax on the lands of Palestine and plains of Tuscany, since John Delacy organised the scattered battalions of the Empress Catherine, and since Count Lally marched the French army to the banks of the Indus: and since Sarsfield, Clare and Mountcashel carried the victorious banners of triumph on the bloody plains of Fontenoy.

Ireland's early history and literature are in a measure obscure, and in fact buried in oblivion, from three great causes which happened at three different periods. The first, being at the reclamation of the Irish people from paganism to Christianity, when the thousands of volumes and scrolls of written parchment are committed to the flames at the instigation of St. Patrick. All those that related in any manner to Mythology perished. What was spared from the ravages of the devouring elements, were ethnological statistics and the records of Chieftains' prowess. The next great onslaught we find on Irish arts and literature is about the period when the Goths and Vandals of Scandinavia laid seige to the Roman capitol. The war-worn veterans from the North landed their conquering hosts on the shores of Ireland. Rapine and plunder marked their path oftentimes, sparing neither age nor sex. They overran a great portion of the Island, making periodical incursions from the coast of Norway, Sweden and Denmark for a period of about two hundred years; chiefly confining the marauding and murderous expeditions along the various seaboards which were open to the attacks of their armed galleys. Their cruel deeds are too horrible to be recited. They defiled everything sacred in search of booty, until finally the nation was aroused from its lethargy and united together for the overthrow and destruction of these innumerous hosts of buccaneers and robbers. After various sanguinary struggles they were finally exterminated on the plains of Clontarf.

The Irish Nation had only emerged from a long and protracted war of centuries, when the evil genius of Henry the Second conceived his scheme of self aggrandizement and conquest, and taking advantage of the internal commotion that is sure to follow a nation that has been the theatre of anarchy and civil strife for so many ages, together with the treachery and perfidiousness of one of the native Princes who had solicited Henry's aid to be reinstated to a sceptre he had legitimately forfeited,—it was then that Earl Strongbowe and his Norman Cavaliers landed their fillibustering legions on the shores of Ireland, an event which is so graphically described in the words of the poet,

There came the brown Phœnician, the man of trade and toil,
There came the proud Milesian a hungering for spoil,
And the Firbolgh and the Cimri and the harden-during Dane,
And the Iron Lords of Normandy with the Saxon in his train

Every school boy is familiar with the Anglo Norman invasion and dynasty in Ireland. The tracks of the conqueror were marked with blood. The air was rent with the wail of the widow and the cry of the orphan. The torch of the incendiary laid in ashes towns and cities that offered resistance to the invaders of their sacred homes and firesides. From then until the period of the Revolution of 1688 there was nothing but continual anarchy and commotion. It might be said that a that a fiery avalanche overswept the land. Each succeeding monarch, whether Norman or Saxon, outrivaled his predecessors in acts of cruelty and confiscation. Throughout all this rapine and slaughter Irish arts and literature suffered alike. I will mention a few of the many that were doomed to destruction. The Psalmster of Tara a national encyclopedia in rhyme and verse, dedicated to the Council of State and the lawgivers, the great code of Brehon laws, though lately resuscitated and transcribed from an extant copy by Dr O'Donovan and his worthy colaborer, Professor O'Curry, for whose combined efforts generations yet unborn are indebted for the celebrated works of Tigearnagh on Jurisprudence, from whom it is supposed emanated the idea of trial by jury. The celebrated Libraries of Cormac of Cashel, the regal seat of the Munster Princes, the Academies of Lismore and Armagh, the former being remarkable as the seat of learning where Alfred the Great received his first rudiments of polished education, the latter being the great Ecclesiastical See, the Seven Churches of Glendalough and the Temples of Lough Dergh, the resort of Pilgrims. All these irreparable losses tend in a measure to eclipse Irish history proper, although tradition tale and song partially supply it. Their harp is the most ancient musical instrument known, it having been used by the Egyptians, Israelites and Babylonians. The sunburst was emblazoned on their banners, which indicate they came from the East and their course was Westward. These same Iberians are mentioned by some of the ancient masters and philosophers, as Plato, Strabo and Diodorus. It is really surprising how they managed to keep any record of their history or genealogy under all these adverse circumstances, and for so many ages when wars of extermination were waged with such relentless fury, and it seemed that literature and architecture were marked out as the first objects of destruction. The peasant will point out to the tourist this very day, the site of many a tragic scene which if minutely related, would make the blood run cold in human veins. Moreover, it was well known that these sacred and sublime structures were the receptacle of the national archives as well as the homes of the holy Dominicans, Franciscans and Carthusians, who poured forth the balm of religious consolation to the distressed and afflicted, and where the good and chivalrous Templar stood ready to defend the helpless and avenge the wrongs of the oppressed.

It may be asked by many, why Irishmen and their descendants celebrate the 17th day of March? Because it is the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint, who first spread the Gospel among her children. It was he who labored with such untiring zeal and christian fortitude to plant the Cross where stood the temple of the proud pagan. We see by his own confessions, that while attending the flocks of his master, Milcho, the Leinster Prince, to whom he had been sold into captivity, and while roaming the Gallee Hills and perhaps lying on a bed of heather, the inspiration of the Holy Ghost took possession of his majestic soul and bid him go forth in that heavenly mission. For surely without the aid of Divine Providence he could not accomplish the reclamation of that people who had so deeply drank at fountains of Paganism and were so sacredly attached to all their ancient rites and ceremonies which the Druids were wont to make grand and imposing with their rich legendary lore. We find in the life of St Patrick, when he returned to Ireland armed with the Cross and Crozier his words [illegible] on the people like the [illegible] of the [illegible]. For it seemed there existed, according to Pagan tradition, a legend that a stranger from afar, a messenger from the Great Spirit, would come among them who's his wise teachings would overturn all their ancient rites and ceremonies. How singular it should happen that that humble and obscure man should be the agency of this divine mission, though placed among them by the mere force of circumstances. But nothing is strange to that Omnipotent Being who controls the destinies of nations as well as individuals. In all probability that was part of his great programme in spreading the Christian doctrine in that obscure age.

We find towards the close of the downfall of the Roman empire and the wars of the [illegible] But even in the times which are commonly called the dark ages our dear green isle showed all the marks of greatness, in science, learning and jurisprudence. It was then that princes came from afar to receive the light of religion and education while the rest of Europe was convulsed with anarchy and civil strife. It was then the peaceful seclusion of Ireland and her many seminaries offered an asylum to those who preferred learning and knowledge to the tumult and strife of battle which then existed, from the banks of the Tiber to the Thames. Those were the days of Ireland's greatest glory, when Tara's Halls contained her bards and statesmen,—

"When that Celtic tongue that in the Senate was lightning, flashing bright
Whose echo in the battle was the thunder of its might
Ah [illegible] tongue whose [illegible] could each [illegible] thral,
From the Kerry mountains to the glens of Donegal

Those were the days and Ireland the birthplace of many of those celebrated authors and scholars who left behind to mankind the fruits of their labors in many of their literary production, which were snatched from the fiery ordeal of the dark ages. I will merely mention a few. Sedulius' Treatise on Theology, Astronomy and Natural Philosophy, the writings and commentaries of Columbanus on Arianism, the various treatises of Cland Clement, the founder of the University of Paris, on the Classics and Mathematics, the translations of the Ethics of Aristotle and other ancient philosophers, by John Eregina, into Chaldaic, Arabic and Latin. These are only a few of the many master minds who flourished in Ireland when the northern barbarians returned with dripping swords from the sack of Rome.

There are various opinions in relation to the birthplace of St Patrick. Several historians differ in regard to it. Bede, Usher Joselyn, Ware and Sir James McIntosh—some alleging that he was born in Rome, others in Scotland and Wales. But the best and most authentic authority we can find is the Book of Lecan, one of the annals of the Four Masters, which takes the best and most comprehensive view of passing events in Ireland up to the period of their compilation in Donegal Abbey, which states that in one of the roaming expeditions of King Niall of the Nine Hostages, that celebrated chief and monarch, whose fleet consisted of three hundred ships, steered for the coast of Gaul, then a Roman province, which he attacked with great fury. He put to flight the Roman legions, burned the city of Tours, and among his captives were St Patrick and his two sisters. We also find in the same authority, that his mother was sister to Martin, Bishop of Tours, who was born in Wales. After the king's return to Ireland, St. Patrick who was then a youth was sold into slavery, it then being customary with most of the nations to dispose of their captives and booty. We also find that during the Roman occupation of Briton, the Emperor Leverus decreed that a wall should be built as a barrier against the frequent sallies of those Scotia Milanese who so often laid waste their settlements along the northern frontiers. Previous to the collapse of the empire, it was in contemplation to fit out a powerful expedition against these Western Islanders, and in view of this, and to counteract it, King Dathy, the last of the Irish Pagan monarchs, set sail with his fleet and army to harrass the Roman Catholics under the Emperor Valens, and in his too eager pursuit was slain at the foot of the Alps.

St Patrick, after serving out part of his term of captivity, returned to his native land, where he was admitted into the College of Tours, where he studied four years for the ministry. He then proceeded to the Holy See, where he obtained admittance among the Prebendaries of Latern. He held several interviews with Pope Celestine on the object he wished to accomplish, who encouraged his mission and rendered him every available aid. So he set sail with twenty other holy men, eminent for their wisdom and piety. They landed on the shores of Wicklow, in the year of our Lord, 432, during the reign of the monarch Laoghair. When the missionaries had completed their landing, the Lord of that Barony, having learned that a band of pirates had come in on his possessions, immediately set out with his retainers to meet them, being fully determined to exterminate the invaders, but being struck by the sanctified appearance of the holy man, and becoming convinced of the philanthropic object of his mission, he invited the whole party to his house, where himself and his whole family became converted to the faith, receiving the holy sacrament of baptism from the hand of that great apostle. St. Patrick was again in the vicinity of his old master's residence, and was determined to find him out, in order to reveal to him the true light of the Gospel. But Milcho being too proud to receive instructions from one who had formerly been his slave, and hearing with indignation that his son and two daughters had embraced christianity, in a moment of rage, set fire to his own house, threw himself into the flames and perished. St Patrick was so affected at this that he remained motionless for some time and shed tears. He then started for the plains of Tara to celebrate the Easter festival, having in view a twofold object, viz., to be within reach of the great Court at the time of the assembly of delegates from the provinces, Tara then being the national capitol, and to be present at the grand Pagan festival of La Baal Tinne, which was to be celebrated by the Druidical Doctors of Laws and Divinities. St Patrick in his wisdom knew full well that his success, in a measure, depended on the impression he created at court, where he knew he would be summoned for his imprudence in lighting his Pascal fire on the eve of this festival contrary to their ancient law. As all persons throughout the land were prohibited from lighting their festival fires until the signal would be given by applying the torch on the hill of Tara, so St. Patrick was summoned forthwith to appear before these great dignitaries, or National Council, where he displayed his great talents and powers of reasoning and dignity, which had such an effect as to make one of the leading Senators arise and offer him a seat. This Senator soon afterwards became his convert and he ordained him Bishop of that district.

Having met with such unbounded success in these high circles it was but a question of time for the whole inhabitants to embrace christianity. There are several anecdotes related in Pagan chronology respecting St. Patrick's controversy with the Druidical Priests. One is in relation to the Trinity. The learned Druids could in no way conceive the divinity of the godhead existing in three persons consolidated in one. St. Patrick stooped down, plucked up a Shamrock and said even nature would demonstrate the force of that argument. The other is on the conversion of the renowned celtic bard Ossian, who became the intimate friend and companion of St. Patrick. Their dialogues were numerous and many of them have been published by the Irish Archæological Society. Toward the close of the Bard's life he became blind and condescended at last to receive baptism from the hand of the Apostle. On one end of the old Patriarch's staff was attached a spear which happened to fall upon his foot, nearly piercing it through to his sandal. He was not discouraged until the ceremony was over, when St Patrick rebuked them, but as a proof of his faith and fortitude, he coolly remarked that he thought it was part of the ceremony. St Patrick, by this time, was in the zenith of his glory. Paganism and idolatry melted away at the sound of his voice like the vapors of the morning before the sunbeams of Autumn. What a consolation it must have been to his declining years when the hoary frosts of time touched his venerable locks, to be the living testimony of the progress of christianity in the land of his adoption, and far on the continent of Europe, where he sent other missionaries who were also as zealous in building and dedicating to the service of God the many noble edifices whose ruins stand this day on the banks of the [illegible] towering in their grandeur [illegible] monuments of [illegible]. He fervently thanked the great Almighty who had crowned his efforts with such [illegible] success. Now [illegible] the human [illegible] suffering he endured in the early part of his life, [illegible] forsook him. He never [illegible] of his ultimate success in the undertaking he so firmly resolved to carry out. It was his every day dream and nightly reverie. The principles and instructions of his virtuous mother which were infused into his youthful mind never departed from his memory. What a change came over the spirit of his dreams from being a poor forlorn dejected youth, unknown and unhonored, to be the great and learned Divine, mounting the highest pinnacle of fame, and recognized by the most eminent Theologians as being one of the greatest promoters of the Church of God. Idolized by the same people who formerly looked on him with scorn and contempt, cherished in the bosom of their offspring through the various ages and generations, his memory lives engraven in indelible letters on the hearts of the children of the very same sires, though scattered throughout many nations of the earth, teaching and professing the very same doctrine, whose evangelic influence has been felt and planted on the western wilds of this continent, on the mountain deserts of Arabia, on the broad plains of Hindostan and among the savage cannibals of Polynesia, where

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his specialty for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.

INSTITUTE.

-  CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE
-  CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
-  IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this section to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon such a subject as the decay of manly vigor that [illegible] the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive; but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] guish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of Seminal W[illegible] one but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment can tell, but its presence can be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms. Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot [illegible] of consumption, short breath; [illegible] sion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of [illegible] nightly emissions; colorless; [illegible] least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the [illegible] regular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above, [illegible] present is the golden [illegible] in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self [illegible] [illegible], you have the seeds of [illegible] system, and their undermining [illegible] or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, [illegible] [illegible] that declares itself at once. [illegible] est danger; for while the patient is being [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or [illegible] tions, he sinks into a [illegible] debility that [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it grows [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind becomes apprehensive, and restless [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope [illegible] covery. In a single instant it may wither [illegible] hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse [illegible] lief. This is an error of the first magnitude, [illegible] tem, unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] denly fails, and he finds himself in a [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in [illegible] ny, distorted, decrepid, and degenerate. [illegible] ble to both sexes, whether married or [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms [illegible] rible complaint, or if your acts have been [illegible] to them, but by instant application secure [illegible] only hope of health and happiness. The [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] time, always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored

The afflicted are assured of every [illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH [illegible]

[illegible] NEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] the Institute, the number of cases of [illegible] been treated, show a record unequ[illegible] in the world, and the success that has [illegible] the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Da[illegible]

Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them [illegible] called for, but actually dangerous, for it is [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the constitu[illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO F[illegible]

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the [illegible] be. Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] relief, and whose respectable standing is [illegible] ommend him to the confidence of the [illegible] Doctor, understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact [illegible] been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female [illegible] ty years, and is fully qualified to administer [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and [illegible] both in hospitals and private families—can [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified, [illegible] designing. Therefore families can rely upon [illegible] a father. All in affliction can find in him one [illegible] and sympathize with and befriend them in [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise, free. [illegible] leed in all weakness and trouble incidental to [illegible] Private apartments are provided, when [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted at[illegible] Doctor, and the most skillful and and [illegible]

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or [illegible] residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such he [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint, will enable him [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at home. [illegible] have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the [illegible] nature of their complaint, as the communication [illegible] seen by no one except the Doctor and will be [illegible] the utmost confidence and either be returned or [illegible]
